FOOD EXHIBITS:

Club Food Exhibit Theme: “Special Occasion”

Plan an exhibit which features foods or a menu inspired by a Special Occasion. Think of a holiday, baby shower, birthday or any special occasion your family celebrates. You can be as creative as you like! Include recipes for all foods exhibited.

Clubs should enter as a club, not as individuals. The evaluator will talk to each 4-H’er but the youth should plan something together. Please note that foods may not be prepared from mixes. Each group will have one table. Please consider food safety: keep cold foods cold and hot foods hot.

4-H’ers must be present for the event and do not just send entries. Set your table for the number of exhibitors in your club plus a judge. If your group is very large, consider 2 group exhibits. It’s okay to bring extra food for the sampling time.

HOW TO EXHIBIT:

4-H’ers prepare a snack, part of a meal or an entire meal depending on their age group. They prepare the food prior to arriving and exhibit it as they would serve it to the number of exhibitors in their group. Remember your foods record sheet.

SENIORS (13-19): As a group, prepare and exhibit an entire meal. Include a menu plan for the whole day (write on food chart).

JUNIORS (7-12): As a group, prepare and exhibit part of a meal. Include a menu chart for the entire meal. What would you serve if you made the whole meal? Juniors may exhibit an entire meal.

EXPLORERS (5-6): As each Explorers Club is a singular club, they should participate at the food show with their own foods as their club. There will be adult who will visit each club to engage the 4-H'ers in a conversation about what they learned and enjoyed about participating in the food show. The club can fill out together the Explorers Snack Planning Sheet.

It is up to the Leader's discretion on how many snacks the club will make, and if they are made by the club together or individually at home. A pdf for an activity to make a simple place setting is attached along with the planning sheet. Table decorations and costuming does not need to be elaborate.

If the Explorers Club is participating in the Food Show alongside an older 4-H Club, they should plan and prepare the snacks independently. They may share a table (decorations, etc) but sit separately at each end so the older youth can be judged and the Explorers can converse with their adult reviewer.

Each Explorer will receive the Food Show participation ribbon.

BE SURE TO BRING:

- *recipes on cards (1 for each food exhibited). Include the ingredients and the preparation steps.
- *completed menu chart (seniors – 1 day, juniors – 1 meal, Explorers – snack)
- *Score sheet with the back filled in for the group
- *the food and extra servings for others to sample
- *table settings for the number of 4-H'ers in the group

4-H Food Show Options: 4-H'ers, including Explorer Clubs, may also enter a poster.

POSTER: theme – “What's Your Diet” Use markers, crayons, collage, etc. to create any size poster. Every poster displayed at the NLC Food Show will be judged (excluding Explorers).

FOOD ACTIVITY STATION: Each club is invited to have an activity station to give guests and participants something to do while judging is going on. Let Ms. Pam know if you would like to set up a station. Examples might be: make a nutritious snack, fruit smoothie, trail mix, yogurt parfait, mini wraps, using chopsticks, creative napkin folding, comparing store brand and name brand, what's on a food label, what is a serving, how much sugar or salt is in a serving of some food, etc. These will be set up in the hallway.

REGISTRATION: Please mail, email to Pamela.gray@uconn.edu or fax to 860. 886-1164 by March 20th. Numbers and names of participating 4-H'ers are needed for certificates and name tags, and to make sure we have enough tables set up. Call 860.885.2824 if you have questions. Forms are available on the website as well: http://newlondoncounty4h.uconn.edu/New_London_County_Forms.php

PARENTS AND LEADERS: will be asked to enjoy coffee, tea and conversation in another room or nearby shopping while the 4-H'ers tables are being judged. Please suggest evaluators or volunteer to evaluate another club.
